Happy Birthday USA!

LONG BEACH, CA – July 4th was the US's birthday and release day for Gregg Young's new single, "Together (HK)," an exciting, rockn' patriotic song. It started the phrase craze, we are in this together!

Here are some thoughts from players and singers on the track.

Jayne Palmer shared, "Together" reminds us that regardless of our differences, we're all in this life together. After many things made us feel more apart than ever, the song is a musical call to lean into the fact that so much is possible when we realize how connected we truly are.

During the pandemic, Gregg invited his musician friends and put on driveway concerts. It was such a blessing for us musicians during a time where the opportunity to perform was little to none, and a gift to the community to experience live music in a safe environment."

Grammy and Latin Grammy Award-winning Tiki Pasillas, on Cajon and percussion, explained, "We're in this together" means caring for the community, staying together, surviving through hardships like Covid. Playing with Gregg for over 20 years has been such a joy and positive experience!"

Grammy Award-winning Scott Martin of the Martin Brothers Horns mentioned, "Covid emphasized what's really important, and that's our health and our loved ones. We've been able to get through this time by remembering that we can persevere by supporting one another."

Engineer Steve McNeil shared, "After we tracked and mixed the acoustic version, Gregg was ready to build a grander version to match the times. Layered background vocals had already been recorded. So, we finished the rest Covid style. Gregg's great team of players made it fun."

"Together (HK)" is now available in all eStores!
